

UNIVERSITY OF HAWAI‘I AT MĀNOA
DEPARTMENT OF LINGUISTICS
LING 499/699 PROPOSAL

(Rev: 12/09)

To ensure that directed reading and research courses are well thought out and understood by all parties concerned, and to keep more detailed records for future reference, each student requesting such instruction is asked to fill out this form and secure the consent of an instructor—recognizing that such request put an additional burden on faculty members and that they should be given full opportunity to decline.

In the space below (and on additional sheets as necessary) please cover the following topics adequately in your proposal: (1) the scope of the proposed course, with references, (2) its relation to your degree program and career goals, (3) timetable of various components within the semester, (4) a brief description of the final product(s) of the course.

499/699 APPROVAL

Each student must have the above proposal and this form completed before obtaining a course approval form for directed reading/research from the department office.
